Judge Dissents From Opinion.

Contracts made by telephone companies with the General Councils of cities in which they are trying to secure or have secured a franchise should be carried out, and they should not be permitted to increase these rates in a new chanchise. Such is the opinion of Appellate Judge Carroll, which is expressed in his dissenting opinion in the case of Keene Lutes against the Fayette Home Tele-Phone Company. He says:

"The facts of this case, as stated in the opinion, furnish a striking illustration of the reasons why the doctrine announced in the opinion should not prevail. Under the franchise the telephone company obligated itself to furnish to the people of Lexington for a term of years business phones at $30 per annum and residence telephones at $18 per annum. Under the new contract made between the Council and the telephone company the tele-Washington, Nov. 1. - Speaker phone company was allowed to charge Champ Clark in the house declared and exact without limitation any fee in favor of a policy of disarmament it might fix, and, in fact, did charge for the United States and indicated for business phones $42 and for resihis opposition to large expenditures dence telephones $24. Judge Carroll, who dissented in the Louisville Home Telephone Company 611, said, "It goes a step further than that case. In the Louisville Home Telephone case the Council required the telephone company to go through a sufficient distance into the block to contract. In this case the Council boldly undertook by an ordinance to relieve the telephone company of its obligations to the people and made a new contract. In short, the court holds that a Council may at any time by an ordinance abrogate a contract and give to a public service corporagard to whether the people affected will be benefited or not. This opinion removes that last restraint imposed by the constitution for the protection precisely as they were before its enactment.'

This gives an original investment of $11,000,000, which, he figures, is easily increased to $50,000,000 by improvements.

City Is Not Liable.

When a city establishes the first grade of a street it is not liable for damages done the property by reason of the establishment of the grade. The Appellate Court so decided in the case of Louis Gernert, of Louisville, against the city of Louisville, in which the judgment sustaining the general demurrer to her petition for damages! was affirmed. The limits of Louisville were so extended as to take in a part Hamburg, Germany, Nov. 1.-Twen- of Jefferson county through which the Bardstown pike runs, and the city laid an asphalt street along the pike, making a grade, as Mrs. Gernert As it was the first grade made by the city, the court held that Mrs. Gernert could not recover damages.

The Glasgow Railroad Company filed answer to the complaint of J. M. Richardson, of Glasgow, before the State Railroad Commission, asking that the road be required to reduce passenger fares from five to three cents a mile. The road denied that it was making abnormal profits or that the rate is extortionate.

New Trial Is Ordered.

Judgment of the Hopkins Circuit Court was reversed in an opinion by Judge Carroll. A. R. Franklin, an employe of the Rose Creek Coal Company, was killed on a coal tipple by a runaway car striking the car by which he was working. It was contended that plaintiff was negligent in permitting car to be used with defective brakes. A demurrer was sustained to the petition, but the Court of Appeals held that in the exercise of ordinary care the railroad company is responsible for the condition of the brakes.

But this bank goes much farther than any law prescribes in the handling of its business and in its assumed responsibility to customers.

SIX ELECTIONS ON TOMORROW

National Issues Figure in the Excit ing Contests in Several Atlantic Seaboard States.

Washington, Nov. 3.-Nation wide issues will figure tomorrow in the elections to be held in six states of the eastern seaboard, but nowhere will local questions be so nearly overshadowed as in New Jersey, of which President Wilson is the leading citizen. He has thrown the whole weight of his influence to James F. Fielder, who became governor when Mr. Wilson left for the White House, and Mr. Fielder's defeat would be a distinct setback for the national administration. The stirring fight against Tammany in New York city and state, the vivid revelations of John A. Hennessy and the deposed governor, William Sulzer, and the attempt of the latter to enter the legislature which ousted him, fixes eyes upon the Empire state. In an interesting four-cornered contest, Massachusetts candidates have fought, but unsuccessfully, for the elimination of national issues. The Progressives are putting up a strong front in Pennsylvania, and Philadelphia is grappling with its own 'graft" exposures. The liquor question is a burning issue in Virginia. Maryland has its first direct election of a United States senator.
